

The Bible Quizzing Journey

AFTER-QUIZ REVIEW

A worksheet + guide to help you evaluate your performance, and make effectual adjustments.

So you just finished a quiz event...

Was it a good quiz? A bad quiz? An okay quiz?

However it went, chances are that there's a ton you can learn from it!

Something I started doing my second year in quizzing, was to track how I was performing at each quiz event, and then make new goals according to that new information.

Then, during the time I had between then and the next tournament, I would try to focus really hard on those specific goals. And what happened?

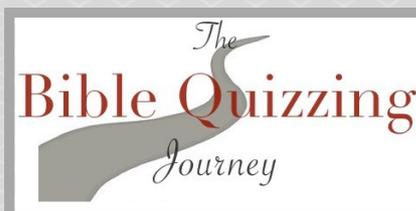

I was able to improve in the areas that I needed to the most!

If I wrote down, "Practice jumping on according to's at the reference" then I would focus on that, and as a result, be more prepared for it at the next quiz event - and it helped me become a better quizzer.

And now I'm going to help you to do that too!

And in this worksheet, I'm going to be showing you how to do just that! We'll be going over...

- Systematically reviewing the quiz event
- Identifying some things you did well
- Identifying some things you can improve on, and...
- How to make simple, and tangible goals for them

Part 1: Systematic Review

This is the part of the workbook where I'm going to show you how to simply remember the things that happened in the competition, piece by piece, in order to evaluate it later!

One - What was your average score per round?

Two - If you have a question specialty, were the majority of your points scored on those?

Three - How were you able to chip into the team score?

Four - Did you place above or below what you aimed for?

Five - What do your errors all have in common?

 _____ _____

Part 2: Evaluation (Positive)

This is the part of the workbook where I'm going to lead you through the identification of the things that you did well!

One - What question type did you score the most on?

Two - On what question type did you win the most jumps (correct or error)?

Three - How many people did you place above?

Four - What did you do better this time, than you did at the last quiz event?

Five - On a scale of 1-10, rate your show of sportsmanship & Christlikeness in the quiz:

_____ _____

Part 3: Evaluation (Negative)

This is the part of the workbook where I'm going to lead you through the identification of the things you can improve on!

One - On what question type did you lose the most jumps?

Two - How far off were you from your ideal placement?

Three - What is something you had done better in past quiz events, than in this one?

Four - How could you have been a better teammate?

Five - What would you LIKE to improve on specifically?

Part 4: Corresponding Goals

This is the part of the workbook where we draw out what specific & tangible goals will cause you to improve the most, and in the most effectual way!

#1 _____

#2 _____

#3 _____

#4 _____

#5 _____

Conclusion:

.....

That's it for this workbook - we hope that it helped you to review your latest quiz event in a way that will benefit you in the (very) near future!

If it did, would you let us know? You'll get my eternal appreciation!

Simply hop over to our Instagram page and DM us, "I loved the "After-Quiz Review" workbook!" and you'll get...

- Qualification to be on our "Testimonials" page
- An opportunity to be added to our "Possible Guest Authors" list, and...
- Personal shoutout on the next post (on the main TBQJ page)!

We sincerely wish you all the best in your future Quizzing Journey, and we look forward to seeing you again soon!

Until then...

Keep calm and quiz on (and out)!
Your fellow quizzer,

Mallory (Instagram: @TheBibleQuizzingJourney <3)

